

FISCAL NOTE

TO: Chief Clerk of the Senate
Chief Clerk of the House

FROM: James A. Davenport, Executive Director

DATE: February 27, 1995

SUBJECT: HB 199 - SB 1337

This bill, if enacted, will authorize judges to establish conditions of bail against persons charged with domestic violence. A victim of domestic violence may have fees waived with regard to an order of protection. Further, the bill will create rebuttable presumption against perpetrators of domestic violence in matters of child custody and visitation.

The fiscal impact from enactment of this bill is estimated to be a decrease in state and local revenues from waiver of filing fees and litigation taxes. The amount of such decrease in state and local revenues cannot be reasonably determined but is estimated to exceed $100,000.

This is to duly certify that the information contained herein is true and correct to the best of my knowledge.

A handwritten signature in black ink, reading "James A. Davenport". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

James A. Davenport, Executive Director